- 2-way data communication between dispatches and drivers provides your company with timely and accurate shipment status information.
- Your customers are immediately updated with recovered times on pickup and PODs on deliveries as drivers update shipments.
- Voice communication is eliminated between dispatchers and drivers as the dispatch screen is automatically updated by drivers' actions.
- Software automatically notifies dispatch that an order has been sent to the phone when the order is on the phone and when the driver has viewed the order.
